An Update from the Managing Director

As you know, the world is trying to navigate COVID-19 as best as we possibly can. There is so much information available at our fingertips regarding COVID-19 from a large variety of sources (including Karen from Facebook and Andrew, who is not in charge of the press conference) and as you are well aware, there is a lot of information around and that information is being updated regularly. So we have intentionally decided not to add to the information everyone is receiving constantly and to purposely communicate with our employees when something directly affects them and we need the communication to be heard. Hopefully, you would have heard from my video in the text message, there is a good team of people at Mastermyne who are working to make sure we are implementing all the best advice and practices across our operations and office spaces. We are working very hard with the Queensland Resources Council who have put together a team which includes a number of the major mining houses, the camp operators, airlines and Government officials. With that we are confident we are getting the latest accurate information to implement across all of our sites and workspaces.

We need everyone to make sure they are observing the protocols that have been put in place. It's the best way we can contribute to slowing down the spread of the virus. Please make sure you are looking after your own wellbeing and the wellbeing of those around you. It's really important that we are also checking in on our wider community.

We know there are a lot of unanswerable questions at the moment but if you have any concerns in relation to Mastermyne specifically, please pick up the phone and give us a call on 07 4963 0400.

Keep Safe.

Mastermyne Family Open Day at MyneSight

A fantastic time was had by all who attended our Mastermyne Family Open Days at MyneSight NSW!

Over the two days, we had around 150 parents, grandparents and kids of our employees, put on a cap lamp and experience what it is like to work underground!

The Open Days were so popular we may need to look at making it an annual event!

Special thanks to Megan Brunker for coordinating the event.

Mastermyne Does MackHack

MackHack was recently attended by some of our Mastermyne employees giving them the chance to solve industry challenges with other participants including one of our own, Quincy Togonon, who participated in the event for the first time. It was held over three days - Friday 6th - Sunday 8th March. Jarred Stanes; Business Improvement Manager, attended the event as a judge. The production involved industry experts and mentors and was a chance to network with likeminded people.

NSW Reaching New Safety Records!

Wambo

Congratulations to the Wambo Vent Crew on achieving 5 year Recordable Injury Free!

This is a fantastic achievement that each and every person who has worked on the Wambo Vent Project should be proud of. This is a team result, from a great team of people.

Tahmoor

Congratulations to the Mastermyne team at Tahmoor for reaching 12 months recordable injury free!

Outcomes like this are a result of good engagement and involvement from a strong team of individuals who are looking out for each other, and consistently challenging each other on what delivers safe outcomes.

This result is even more impressive based on the nature of and scope of works being undertaken during this period.

Thanks to everyone who has been involved!

Call Out To ...

Moranbah North Team

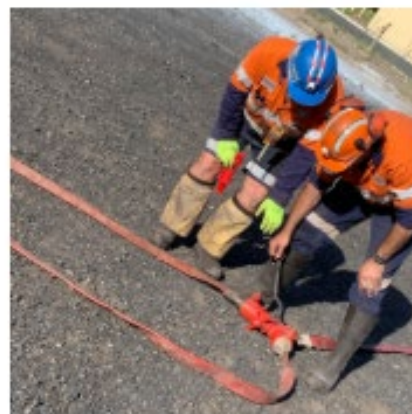

A BIG call out to the Moranbah North (MNM) team for offering and coming to assist the Grosvenor team at short notice, no questions asked.

We have been under a bit of pressure in the last few months with the Longwall move in full swing (seal up) and the wheels were starting to get a tad wobbly.

A quick SOS call to Tony on the Tuesday and Biggsy turned up on site Thursday. He put in a big week and was a great help. Dave has turned up and followed on from Biggsy's lead.

So a HUGE thanks to the MNM brothers for helping out in a time in need!

Aquila Shutdown Training Day

Call Out to the Aquila Crews involved in the power shut down Training day and Clint Day for being the glue that kept it all together and ensured it ran smoothly.

Moranbah North Secondary Support and 605 Development

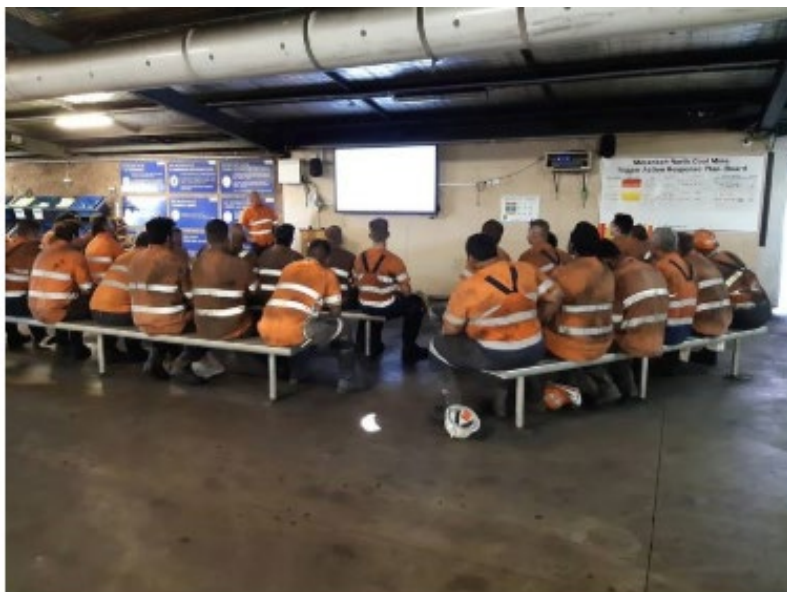

Geotechnical experts at Moranbah North developed a support plan with an extensive safety factor. The first pass on the new faceline was to be supported with lots of 10m mega bolts.

In 8 days, over 1400 x 10m mega bolts were installed and grouted with 2 x multi bolters, 2 x QDS bolters and a continuous miner. All of these were installed without incident and 3-4 days earlier than originally planned. The labour intensive work completed by the Secondary Support and Development crews is highly commendable.

Special mention also goes to The Commander and Chief, Tony Zahra. Tony gave up his weekend to ensure all planning and sequencing was followed and executed without incident. Congratulations to all employees involved.

A BBQ was hosted to thank all involved in this huge success & to go through some safety stats and training in preparation for the upcoming busy Longwall move period.
